“...he knows and understands the Caribbean in a way that some other English barristers do not”.
(Legal 500, English Bar, Offshore, 2025 rankings)

Band 1, Dispute Resolution, Chambers Directory 2025 Turks and Caicos Islands (“...a top-tier lawyer with an impressive litigation practice across the Caribbean, which includes significant activity on the Turks and Caicos Islands archipelago”)

Individually ranked (1 of 4 practitioners), Dispute Resolution 2025, Chambers Directory, Caribbean-wide (“...operates a stellar disputes practice across the Caribbean...one of the region’s most prominent advocates.”)

With a background in practice at the English Bar across a wide range of court work, Tim has been a court advocate and arbitration lawyer across the Caribbean for over twenty years; appearing in every level and type of court, including before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. Both his offshore and onshore includes sanctions issues. He heads up the firm’s cross-border practice, including the Guyana office.

He has deep experience in the strategic aspects of preparing for, running, winning and sometimes simply avoiding “bet-the-company” disputes. As part of the firm’s leadership, he understands the need to deliver a commercial approach to busy co-counsel and end-user clients. He is widely known for his dispute work involving governments.

He also has experience of offshore digital assets issues. Including regulation and related enforcement.

Tim has given expert evidence many times in a wide range of onshore jurisdictions on trustee issues, choice of law and jurisdiction provisions, corporate insolvency issues, directors’ duties, confidentiality legislation and judgment enforcement.

His “big ticket” insolvency experience includes his also being a licensed Insolvency Practitioner. Tim is also an INSOL Fellow and Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators.

His public law work has covered a wide range of judicial review and constitutional issues. Tim relishes that which is described as “pointy-end” court work and related litigation.
